Extracts from the D.O. to J.B. Brown, Esq., C.S.I., C.I.E., I.C.S., Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras. dated 7th August 1944.

In view of the time limits for the work, the pressure of work is likely to be considerable, and it seems likely that these officers will be in camp most of the time and will not be able to establish their wiv and families in the vicinity of their work. There is a strong case for giving these Deputy Collectors and the other staff to be appointed for the work, special allowances on the scale sanctioned for the Special Staff working on the extension in the Cauvery-Mettur Project area up t the date fixed for the completion of the acquisition.

This may be taken up in a separate file.

PUBLIC (SERVICES) DEPARTMENT

G.O. No. 657, 29th March 1940

Public Services—Madras Ministerial Service—Selection of candidates—Revised procedure—Introduced.

Order—No. 657, Public (Services), dated 29th March 1940.

Under the existing procedure, candidates who sit for the competitive examination for the Madras Ministerial Service are classified by the Madras Public Service Commission according to the districts in which they wish to be appointed and in each district they are further classified according to their communities and languages. Under these classifications they are arranged in order of marks obtained by them at the competitive examination and the required number of candidates under each language and community is selected for each district. The Commission has pointed out that the above system of selection for each district does not ensure the selection of the best candidates of the same language and community and has accordingly suggested for adoption the following revised procedure :—The vacancies estimated to arise will be classified under the several languages and communities for the Presidency as a whole, e.g., Tamil Non-Brahman Hindus, Tamil Brahmans, Telugu Non-Brahman Hindus, etc. After the tabulation of the marks the topmost candidates up to the required number will be selected from each group. Candidates will still be allowed to indicate in their applications the districts in which they wish to be employed, but they will also be informed that though their wishes will be considered they must be prepared to be selected for any district in a language group. The selected candidates will be allotted to districts in a language group, if possible to the districts of their choice, otherwise to the nearest possible district.

2. The Government have considered the Commission's suggestion and have decided to accept it tentatively. The revised procedure will come into force with effect from the next selection. The Commission is requested to report on the working of the revised procedure after a period of three years.

Fin (C&R)

The criteria for the grant of Class I special pay are laid down in rule 5 on p.3 of the Madras Manual of Speci Pay & Allowances, Vol. I. No special pay of this class sho be granted unless the particular duties for which an all ance is claimed so far differ in kind or intensity from thos for the performance of which the service in question was recruited as to justify a special remuneration. Practicall no case seems to have been made out for a Class-I special pa

Department for which the special staff has been sanctioned cannot also be held to be arduous. The analogy of special pay allowed to the special staff employed in the C.M.P. for speeding up the work hardly applies to the present case. No precedents for the grant of special pay for requisitioning of lands have been put up by Revenue. Prima facie, there seems to be no case for the grant of special pay. For orders, whether Finance may advise against the proposal.

2. The cost of the special staff is recoverable from the Defence Department ultimately -- vide para 2 of G.O. 1588 Rev. dated 8-8-44.

Special pay is not usually given for acquisition work. This work does not seem to be very much different. Of the two reasons given at 'A' on page 1 ante in support of the request for special pay, the latter is not admissible viz that the officers will be separated from their families. On the whole I think special pay may be given to the staff working in the jungle area if they are not also drawing special pay for an unhealthy area and that no special pay need be given to the staff working in the open area. Orders may be taken
